Background of the Gospel

The visit of the Magi occurs directly before the story of the Holy Family's flight into Egypt. Matthew's Gospel tells a version of Jesus' birth that is different than the one in Luke. Of the actual birth of Jesus, Matthew tells us little more than, "When Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea, in the days of King Herod . . ." The story of the census is found only in Luke's Gospel, but we hear about the visit of the Magi only in Matthew's Gospel.

We know little about the Magi. They come from the East and journey to Bethlehem, following an astrological sign, so we believe them to be astrologers. We assume that there were three Magi based upon the naming of their three gifts. The Gospel does not say how many Magi paid homage to Jesus. In Matthew's Gospel, they represent the Gentiles' search for a savior. Because the Magi represent the entire world, they also represent our search for Jesus.

We have come to consider the gifts they bring as a foreshadowing of Jesus' role in salvation. We believe the meaning of the gifts to be Christological. Gold is presented as representative of Jesus' kingship. Frankincense is a symbol of his divinity because priests burned the substance in the Temple. Myrrh, which was used to prepare the dead for burial, is offered in anticipation of Jesus' death.

The word Epiphany means "manifestation" or "showing forth." Historically several moments in Christ's early life and ministry have been celebrated as "epiphanies," including his birth in Bethlehem, the visit of the Magi, his baptism by John, and his first miracle at Cana.

A Reflection on the Epiphany of the Lord

The Epiphany of the Lord reveals a God who refuses to remain hidden. In a world searching for meaning, clarity, and direction, Epiphany announces a simple yet powerful truth: God's light is meant for all. The star that guided the Magi was not reserved for one people or one place; it shone across borders, cultures, and beliefs, inviting all who were willing to search.

Today's world longs for that same light. We live amid confusion, misinformation, fear, and division. Many walk in darkness—not because they want to, but because truth feels blurred and hope fragile. Epiphany reminds us that God responds to this darkness not with force, but with light. Christ does not overpower the world; He illuminates it.

The Magi represent every person who seeks truth with sincerity. They travel far, ask questions, risk change, and allow themselves to be led. When they finally encounter the Child, they discover that truth is not an idea but a Person—humble, vulnerable, and full of grace. In Jesus, light takes flesh.

Epiphany challenges us not only to recognize the light, but to reflect it. Those who encounter Christ are changed and sent back “by another route.” In a world that needs truth and hope, Christians are called to become stars themselves—bearing Christ's light through justice, compassion, humility, and courage.

The light still shines. The question is whether we will follow it—and become it—for others.
